

Read & Go Adult Program Trip Winston-Salem, NC

Wednesday, July 11, 2018

Do you like sleek drone flight and incredible nanotechnology? Then this trip is perfect for you. Join our exciting exploration into the world of stealthy tech. We will be leaving from the Anne Gordon Active Adult Center at Millbrook Exchange Park (1901 Spring Forest Road) at 6:30am.

Come with us to Winston-Salem, NC and witness the cutting edge technology discussed in the action packed book Besieged, by A.J. Tata. First we will tour the various nanotechnology labs at Wake Forest University to uncover what big things those tiny tools are capable of. Then have lunch on your own and maybe some light shopping at the historic Reynolda Village, housed in buildings that once supported the 1,067 acre estate of the R. J. Reynolds family. This afternoon we'll learn about drones at the Center for Design Innovation and watch a professional pilot a drone. For the demonstration of drone flight we will be outdoors. Though there will be some shade, you may want to bring an umbrella for additional protection. As always, we suggest you wear comfortable clothing and shoes. The group will arrive back at the Anne Gordon Center in Raleigh at approximately 5:45 pm.
